

Sarai AGUSTIN - CV

Dr. Sarai Agustin has earned her Ph. D. in Biosciences at the University of Sonora (Mexico) in 2017. Since 2018 she is temporary researcher at IPCB-CNR. She is currently working on Synthesis, modification, and characterization of polymeric materials; Valorization of biowastes; Chemical characterization of plant origin materials, food chemistry, antioxidants, and lipids; and the Production and characterization of biomaterials for active and functional food-packaging. She has authored/co-authored numerous publications and book chapters and has taken part in several international conferences as speaker and invited speaker.