

Giovanni BRUNACCINI_CV

Giovanni Brunaccini (he/him) graduated in Electronics Engineering from Università di Catania in 2004, PhD. in “Materials for Environment and Energy” from Università di Roma “Tor Vergata”, currently he works as a researcher at CNR-ITAE in Messina. His activity ranges from fuel cells and electrochemical storage systems development to numerical modeling in the energy systems field. Author and co-author of more than 50 international papers, he has been involved in many European projects in the hydrogen and energy sectors.