

Gabriela SQUARZONI – CV

Gabriela Squarzoni is a researcher at RSE, Sustainable Development and Energy Sources department. She got her PhD in Earth Sciences at the Biological, Geological and Environmental Sciences department of the University of Bologna in 2020. She worked as freelancer in geological and hydrogeological field for a few years, mostly dealing with underground water problems. At present, her research is about the fluid dynamic simulation of underground systems.